EMMA GERSTEIN is the second flute of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra (CSO), appointed in 2017 by Music Director Riccardo Muti. Before her appointment, she appeared with the Orchestra as a guest several times, including performances during the Asia 2016 tour. Prior to joining the CSO, Gerstein most recently served as the section Principal Flute of the Auckland Philharmonia Orchestra in New Zealand.

Prior to her position with the Auckland Philharmonia Orchestra, Gerstein was a Fellow at the New World Symphony from 2013-16, and Principal Flute of the Lexington Philharmonic Orchestra in Kentucky for the 2012-13 season. In addition, she performed as part of the flute section with the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra, and as guest principal flute with the Seattle Symphony. Emma participated in the Aspen, Spoleto USA, Sarasota, Orford, and Cabrillo festivals.

A native of Chicago's Hyde Park neighborhood, Gerstein began her studies at age 8 with Susan Levitin and was a member of the Chicago Youth Symphony Orchestra. She went on to study at Manhattan School of Music with Robert Langevin, and at Indiana University with Thomas Robertello.
